New Expert Rules under the New British Columbia Supreme Court Civil Rules: What You Need to Know Now!

Significant changes in the British Columbia Supreme Court Civil Rules will come into effect on July 1, 2010 and will have a profound impact on all civil litigation in the province. The most significant changes concern the rules governing experts. This presentation will highlight what you need to know and do now with respect to current or pending litigation.

SPECIAL GUEST: David A Crerar is a partner at the Vancouver office of Borden Ladner Gervais. He practices in the areas of civil and commercial litigation, with a focus on media law and defamation, commercial leasing, shareholder disputes, and banking and pension litigation. David serves as a Professor at the University of British Columbia Faculty of Law, lecturing in civil procedure. He has published articles on banking law, class proceedings, media and defamation law, internet law, injunctions, and civil procedure.
